Stennis Gets Price Protest

A protest over allegedly low prices being offered for purchase of property in the NASA test site and slowness of payments was lodged with U. S. Senator John Stennis during his visit to the Gulf Coast Saturday.

Asa McQueen, Hancock native who now resides in Pearl River County, told the Echo that Stennis had assured him he would try to help relieve the situation on his return to Washington. McQueen said many of his friends in Gulfport, part of the fee area, have told him they are not "getting enough money or getting it fast enough" to meet the July 31 deadline to vacate their property.

Meanwhile O. B. Moore, real estate office manager for the Corps of Engineers land acquisition office here, said the sale negotiators have encountered "very little opposition in the field" and "almost without exception the people have expressed satisfaction with the amount offered."

Sixteen tracts covering 169 acres have been actually optioned so far for a total outlay of about $108,000, Moore reported. While it may appear upwardly that this is a slow pace, Moore noted that International Paper Co. owns about 85 per cent of the 13,550 acres in the fee area. Its holdings run around 11,000 acres. NASA has budgeted over $16 million for acquisition of all the property it needs—both in the fee area and easement zone—with something over $2 million estimated necessary to secure the actual test site.

Purchase proposals have been quoted to some other landowners in the area, Moore continued, who have the offers under consideration and have not yet signed options. He said he expects signing to "spurt" in about two weeks. At present, he added, acquisition is going as contemplated when site selection was announced last October.

McQueen told the Echo it appeared to him "somebody is evidently trying to hold land prices down in the area and trying to buy land on the basis of a year ago." He said Stennis had conferred with him "that the people should be justly and honestly paid."

McQueen and his wife, who went to school with the Senator in Kemper County as a girl, attended the Armed Forces Day luncheon at Biloxi last Saturday on a personal invitation from Stennis and he took up the matter at that time with the legislator.

Appraisal of the property was made by a group of Mississippi licensed appraisers and approved by the Army Engineers who were assigned the task of land acquisition. An effort to determine fair value through Courthouse records was to no avail since assessment is fixed at a flat rate by order of the board of supervisors dated July 1957. That states that all marsh land be assessed at $3.50 an acre; wild or timbered land not connected by a state or U. S. highway at $6; improved land at $10; tracts broken by or touching U. S. 11 or 90 at $18 and that touching or broken at Rts. 43, 53, 603 and 604 at $10. Average assessment for wild land in the county is $6.32 an acre against a state average of $6.04 and $6 in neighboring Pearl River County; and at $11.71 for cultivated land compared with a state average of $10.06 and $16.47 in Pearl River.

April showers, phooey! The Bay-Waveland area hasn't had its spring flow.

The records of Hancock County's unofficial weather station operated by Brother Roderic of St. Stanislaus College show that since March 1 the Bay-Waveland area has received slightly more than one and one-half inches of rain. These delicate instruments show a 3/100 inch fall on April 29, and with two exceptions show no other rainfall in the past 94 days. The exceptions: March 22, 3/4 inches; and April 1, 1/2 inches.

We really haven't had any rain in two months or more.

Suspect Bigtime Safe Trio in Beach Theft

Possibility that the three "big time safe men" arrested in Mobile, Ala., early Wednesday may have been involved in last Thursday's theft of more than $100,000 worth of narcotics from Economy Drugs, Inc., is being sought, according to Sheriff Deputy Price.

Law enforcement authorities in the area joined local police in the search immediately after the break-in was discovered Thursday morning. Sheriff Deputy Price said one suspect was released. He described the man taken as being about 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, with dark hair and eyes, and a mustache.

First tangible lead appeared Thursday when a trio of New Orleans, trailed by police from that city, were arrested in Mobile with a versatile set of safe-breaking tools.

Federal narcotics men are working with the investigation. The FBI will not be called in unless money orders on Western Union, whose safe in the drug store was broken into, are traced.

The entry first was noticed by Tony Piazza, whose barber shop is next door to Beach Drug, when he saw the drug's front door open Thursday morning. City Policeman Jack Lader answered the call immediately and Chief of Police Alcine Saucier joined him shortly after which the sheriff's office and State Highway Patrol were notified.

Deputy Price said Ford O'Neal of the highway patrol identification bureau surmised the theft was not done by professional safe men since they did not use their array of tools on one safe. They left in the store a lug wrench, crow bar and sledge hammer while another crow bar was found in a Piazza's shop through which they apparently gained entry.

Price observed that the thieves obviously "knew their dope" as they selected only "resaleable items" and moved jars with items they did not want out of the way. Taken were dilaudid, demoral, morphine, codeine, powdered opium and a number of brand name tablets.

The culprits also forced their way into the rear of the building where the Western Union equipment was kept and carried off a 300-pound floor safe containing

Election Officials Are Chosen for June 5 Vote

Election officials for the June 5 Congressional primary were named Tuesday by the County Democratic Committee at a joint session with the election commissioners. Voting places throughout the county will be open from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m.

County Registrar Lamar Otis observed this is likely to be the last election held in the Galesville precinct since residents there must vacate by July 31 for the NASA project. He reminded that to vote in the general election next November one must transfer his registration at least six months in advance in order to vote in a new precinct.

Otis added, however, he expected some provision would be made for those to vote in the area who have not transferred.

Hobbies Are a Part of Life

If you wish a full and interesting life adopt a hobby. . . J. T. Carr, when not occupied with big construction work, turns to antique and cabinet making. . . George Simmons has 10 cats and at present is caring for a neighbor's four. . . Herbert Peterson was out on his front lawn recently feeding his pet calf from a bottle with a nipple on it. . . Gertrude Robertson must have spent months reaching her parakeet such six syllable words as "episcopahan." If you want to run an obstacle race go visit the Robert Spahr—their four Pomeranians Fl Fl, Fl-Wissen, Gl Gl and El Torero, have two playmates visiting them, Po Quito of N. O. and Pocho of Ohio, which at three pounds each makes about 15 pounds of activated fluff bouncing about under foot as you cross the threshold. . . Rose Richmond has everybody collecting stamps for her. . . and Capt. Hansen can be seen on every morning going about his business in his vegetable garden where beautiful tomatoes, beans, eggplants, etc., are flourishing.

At last Al Landry is off to sea again, but while ashore waiting for the release of his ship from dry dock he never wasted a minute—two fresh new paint jobs on his black beauty to his garage and ability. . . Youngsters who care enough to take educational course in driving can be counted upon to be careful drivers—Marie Peterson has her brand new first license to prove she took the test and passed. . . Marie lived with Eugene Raymond, who her little nephew Lawrence, Jr., was christened at Our Lady of the Gulf on April 21. . . The Lawrence Joseph Petersons are the proud parents and Mrs. Harold Garcia and L. Peterson are grandparents for the first time.

When a man Protests

The beautiful effect of the fantastic make-up with hair dye and slanting eyes was achieved by Mercedes Spahr and her helper Ernest Wimpish, when she gifted the chorus group of the Mikado with her skill in Japanese art, they presented her with a gorgeous orchid. . . Pretty Marie Klein sat as model for Mercedes to practice on, when the proper effect was achieved Marie received compliments from all but her husband Lee who wanted to take off until that dyed black hair grew out again. . . Persuasion kept him long enough to learn that black stuff would wash right out of her hair, only then did he concede she did look beautiful, but in a peculiar sort of way.

Lucky were the members who attended the May 14 meeting of the Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. J. C. Goodloe on Forest Street when Mrs. Marcia Hughes demonstrated the use of every attachment of the sewing machine. . . Later Mrs. Hughes gave an educational talk on the organization of American States and its accomplishments. . . The group's thought of the month should be adopted by everybody—You get credit for what you finish, not for what you started. . .

We extend get well wishes to Mrs. Robert Ladner whose high blood pressure has caused trouble of late. . . To Joe Rousseau whose recent eye operation seems to have been very successful. . . and to Mrs. Ida Jourdan recently hospitalized for a couple of weeks.

Hard Line

With our local National Guard unit absent this year because of its response to an emergency, the Bay-Waveland area was in no position to promote an effective armed force day program last Saturday. We were officially invited to witness the armed forces day program at Keesler Air Force Base and subsequently to attend a luncheon sponsored by the cities of Gulfport, Biloxi and Ocean Springs.

Whether it was the men marching in review or the airplanes flying over, the Keesler program ran off without a hitch and we were impressed by the efficiency of the airmen, not normally expected to be tops in the drill line.

Both at the review and at the subsequent luncheon Senator John Stennis spoke. At the review his brief comments were naturally devoted to the important role played by our armed forces, whether air force, navy, army, marine corps, or the coast guard in times of war. He also emphasized that the civilian has a role to play in giving support, moral as well as financial, to these men in uniform.

At the luncheon Senator Stennis, while still stressing the importance to us, all of us, of our armed forces really got to the meat. Basically there were three points to his speech. One was his statement "today the sum total of our military might and strength is greater than that of any other nation". On that premise the senator pointed out that any global type war would be disastrous for our opponents even though we ourselves might be seriously hurt.

His second and somewhat more important point was that notwithstanding our military and naval potential this country is run by civilians and not by the military. Certainly all of us should recognize the importance of that distinction, whether we think in terms of Argentina or Russia or some small Central American or Southeast Asian country.

The third and most important point we gathered from Senator Stennis was his advocacy of what would be called the "hard" line in international diplomacy and his insistence that this country should only aid, financially and otherwise, nations that are willing to help themselves. He warned that we could spread ourselves too thin, both in man power and financially, and that those countries who wouldn't help themselves would be more of a liability than an asset even if friendly. He also gave us his opinion that this country has become firm in its diplomatic relations, that it is resolute and that it is following a "harder course".

The Echo wholeheartedly supports Senator Stennis' view that we should only help those who will help themselves, that we should continue to be firm in international politics (we didn't do so good where Cuba is concerned but did act promptly and firmly with the Dominican Republic after President Trujillo's assassination, and have dangerously committed ourselves in the southeast Asia countries), but we are not as optimistic as Senator Stennis in connection with the moral fibre of our population. Senator Stennis' laudatory comments about our reserves we believe to be justified, but his feeling that the public at large is steadfast in support of our armed forces, including reserves, we believe is a misplaced confidence. From what we can ascertain the public at large is back of our armed forces, way back, and a high percentage would sacrifice nothing, particularly dollars, to help them out. This is one time we hope we are wrong. We hope the Senator is correct, but are fearful.

As recently as April 12 this paper enthusiastically volunteered its support of veteran Congressman William Colmer. We think he should be reelected, but are glad the voters have a choice this year in candidates for the United States House of Representatives. We have no objection to Mr. V. O. Campbell who aspires to Mr. Colmer's office in Washington. He appears to be an able and "loyal" Democrat, as he phrases it, but we are still for Mr. Colmer.

Argus Brothers Will Graduate From Tulane

Two brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Argus of Bay St. Louis, are to receive their degrees from Tulane University at commencement exercises Monday. They are Wilbert L. Argus, Jr., bachelor of arts in architecture, and Ballard Leobor Argus, bachelor of science with a major in physics.

Each man will be commissioned as ensign in the U. S. Navy in accordance with graduation regulations, having been awarded competitive Navy scholarships as students of the end of their freshman years. Billy will report the end of June for duty with the civil engineering corps of the Navy in California while Wilbert goes to Pensacola Naval Air Station June 12.

Both men have been residents of the Hancock County for many years. Their father, Wilbert L. Argus, Sr., is a well-known architect and engineer in the Bay St. Louis area. He has been a member of the American Institute of Architects and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

The Great Books speak to Today...

The Laborer

Servants, laborers, and workmen of different kinds, make up the far greater part of every great political society.

—SMITH from The Wealth of Nations

Without labour, neither can the mind be disciplined into the habits required by civilized society, nor the material world prepared to receive it.

—MILL from Representative Government

No labour is so heavy but it may be brought to a level with the workers' strength, when regulated by equity, and not by avarice.

—MONTESQUIEU from The Spirit of Laws

That is a well-ordered state the citizens should have leisure and not have to provide for their daily needs is generally acknowledged, but there is a difficulty in seeing how this leisure is to be obtained.

—ARISTOTLE from Politics

FORESTRY FIELD DAY — Marion Parker, fire control forester with the State Forestry Commission, right, demonstrated poisoning of hardwood timber during annual Forestry Field Day program Tuesday at Mrs. Carl Heltzmann's farm near Bayou LaCrosse. He showed two methods: girdling and tree injection using amide of 2-4-D. The 35 attending heard foresters recommend selective cutting and management practices for timber as any other crop on the farm. Measuring .1 acre off and marking it, they recommended cutting .71 cord of pulpwood and 192 board feet of saw logs which would leave 19.6 cords of pulpwood and 520 board feet of logs.

Fair?

Is the Mississippi Test Facility (Hancock County Test Site to us) a gravy train here or what?

There have been increasing indications over the last several weeks that some residents in the fee area of the test site and more especially some civic and business leaders in Picayune are most dissatisfied with the price Uncle Sam is offering for the land he needs for the national defense program. Perhaps this program might be better characterized as the global defense program in these days of jets, intercontinental missiles, etc.

Rumors have run rampant ever since the announcement last October of the location in Hancock County of a NASA test facility. A NASA official commented on one of these when he spoke here two weeks ago; he refuted the speculation that cows would go blind as a result of the rocket testing and pointed out that none in Cape Canaveral have gone blind. Then there is the one about grave diggers to move the old Gainesville cemetery, reportedly at $8 an hour. One individual even called the Courthouse to get his name on the employment list. He figured that working three months at $8 an hour he'd have enough money to go fishing the rest of the year. Even the board of supervisors has speculated concerning rumors that land in the test site area might sell for $1,000 an acre, more or less. Boy, was the gravy ever rolling out, or in!

We believe in a fair deal for everyone, but if land was worth $200 an acre eight months ago why should it be noticeably more valuable now? Would you pay more than a fair price for it?

You are the government. You foot the bills — it's your taxes, yours and mine, that pay for government expenses, for the land in Hancock County or military installations in Alaska. In the days of Robin Hood this almost mythical character gained his renown in actions that were "take it from the rich man, give it to the poor man". Notwithstanding the unpopularity, justifiable, of King John, we still question Robin Hood's actions even if he was a childhood hero of ours. In any event those days are gone. There are very few rich men and a whole lot of us poor ones, and it's us poor ones that foot the bills when the United States government buys something.

We could go on and on ad infinitum and suggest that Mississippi's U. S. senator, John Stennis, irrespective of pressure, not play politics in attempting, as he has been requested, to see that Hancock Countians get more for their property than the appraisals made by qualified Mississippians.

Sidelines To Eye Better Track Plan

President Red Davis of the St. Stanislaus Sidelines Club was authorized Tuesday to contact qualified engineers to design track and field facilities at the school's present stadium. Action was taken after Brother Declan, principal of the school, and departing coach Reuben Ruiz told the club that good track facilities and a good track team would improve the ability of students in other athletic fields.

It was estimated a suitable track would cost in the neighborhood of $6,000. The club this spring completed payments on the bleachers it gave St. Stanislaus, and indications are that the organization will have a new track for its current program. Coach Ruiz told the club of his regrets in leaving St. Stanislaus after six years for a new position at Catholic High, Baton Rouge. He explained that he could not turn down the opportunity but that his association with the local school had been rewarding and pleasant and pointed out that as of now St. Stanislaus has as good "football equipment as any school". The coach was given a standing ovation by members of the club present.

Max Trellis reported last Sunday's speed boat regatta, sponsored by the Sidelines, was a success. According to him "drivers and others think we have a good course — and the race was well run". The club set the third Sunday in May, 1963, as the date for their third regatta and Trellis was reelected chairman of the event.

July 15 was chosen for a picnic for 1962-63 members and their families. A membership drive is scheduled to start July 1.

The national champion southern Magnolia tree, crowned by the American Forestry Association last year, is located in the southwestern part of Wayne County, Miss.

The measurements of the champion are: circumference, 17 feet 4 inches (4 1/2 feet in diameter); height, 112 feet; and crown diameter, 56 feet.

By Gone Days

25 YEARS AGO

10 YEARS AGO
 May 23, 1952 — Temple Perkins and Norma Johnson are to represent Bay High and Catherine Benigno and Marlene Egloff, St. Joseph Academy, at Girls' State in Jackson June 28-July 5.

DO WE NEED SENIORITY OR JUNIORITY IN CONGRESS?

If seniority is so good for us in Congress why is it that in our district suits are constantly being filed on such questions as voting rights while in the old 3rd District which is served by Congressman Frank Smith, who is the Junior Member in Congress from Mississippi, and works in harmony with President Kennedy, not a single Negro voting suit has been filed and there are more Negroes in the Delta than any place in Mississippi! Too, do you remember the Job Selling scandal we had in our fair state in 1949, because we would not cooperate with President Truman? If you think Cooperation with the President is best for us then vote for V. O. Campbell, THE LOYAL DEMOCRAT for Congress.

COLMER FORMALLY ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

The Sea Coast Echo is authorized to announce the candidacy of Congressman Bill Colmer for re-election in the June 5th Primary.

In the Congress of the United States where seniority plays a most important role, Congressman Colmer has become a veteran. He will be the eighth ranking Member in seniority in the Congress convening in January, 1963.

Vice Chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, Colmer was elected recently by the Congressional delegations of Louisiana and Mississippi to the newly organized Democratic Steering Committee of the House.

Serving with two members of the President's Cabinet, two Senators, and another Congressman, the Mississippians have been a member of the National Forest Reservation Commission since 1942.

As Chairman of the Postwar Economic Policy and Planning Committee, he warned the nation of the cold war as early as 1945.

In 1948 his colleagues elected Colmer as Chairman of the Informal House Southern group, and he has continued to serve in that capacity in succeeding Congresses. This group, similar to one headed by Russell of Georgia in the Senate, was set up to plan strategy against "civil wrongs" legislation and other bills violating the Tenth or "States' Rights" Amendment to the Constitution.

Congressman Colmer's personal statement follows:

"To the Sovereign voters of the newly constituted Fifth District of Mississippi -

"You have been most generous to me with your suffrage. As a result, I have had the privilege and the responsibility of serving with four Presidents. In recognizing that responsibility I have earnestly and conscientiously tried to show my appreciation by placing your interest and the country's welfare above everything else, including BLIND party loyalty. In short, where I had to decide between patronage and principle, I chose principle. That is the policy I shall continue to follow.

"South Mississippi is the fastest growing section of our state. I am confident that this phenomenal growth will continue in the immediate years ahead.

"This growth, of course, is both a blessing and, at times, a headache. 'Growing pain' problems call for know-how, experience, and seasoned judgment. These are qualities that I hope I may, with proper modesty, claim as a result of your investment in my seniority in Congress.

"Whatever talents, ability and energy I possess are at the command of all, poor or rich, common or uncommon.

"On the basis of my record of service in your behalf and in the hope that I may continue to contribute something toward the preservation of this great Republic, I humbly and respectfully seek your vote of confidence in the June 5th Primary.

BILL COLMER"

This is graduation week for many of our graduates. It is also called commencement, for it is not an ending, but a beginning. One is now ready to move onward to his life's work. Not what is finished, but what yet remains to be achieved is the emphasis of Graduation Day. Inviting ahead lies a wonderful future, and opportunity onward. How thrilling to be young and eagerly looking forward with a heartful of excitement!

The above words, written by Rev. Norman Vincent Peale, express so fully the spirit of graduation.

Emmett La Fontaine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe LaFontaine, has set a record of attendance at Gulfview. Emmett has never missed a day in eight years or been tardy.

Lots of sick folks this week but all are improving. Get well wishes to Little Audrey Kennedy 6, who had an emergency appendectomy Monday evening at Hancock General. Audreys mom, Rose, had just returned home herself from a week's stay in the hospital when she had to go right back up with Audrey. Gladys Lee, nurses aide, is doing fine, as is Mr. Jordy, Mrs. Maske and Mrs. Thelma Landry had so many lovely flowers there was hardly room for the patient.

HO 7-5814

This is graduation week for many of our graduates. It is also called commencement, for it is not an ending, but a beginning. One is now ready to move onward to his life's work. Not what is finished, but what yet remains to be achieved is the emphasis of Graduation Day. Inviting ahead lies a wonderful future, and opportunity onward. How thrilling to be young and eagerly looking forward with a heartful of excitement!

The above words, written by Rev. Norman Vincent Peale, express so fully the spirit of graduation.

Emmett La Fontaine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe LaFontaine, has set a record of attendance at Gulfview. Emmett has never missed a day in eight years or been tardy.

Lots of sick folks this week but all are improving. Get well wishes to Little Audrey Kennedy 6, who had an emergency appendectomy Monday evening at Hancock General. Audreys mom, Rose, had just returned home herself from a week's stay in the hospital when she had to go right back up with Audrey. Gladys Lee, nurses aide, is doing fine, as is Mr. Jordy, Mrs. Maske and Mrs. Thelma Landry had so many lovely flowers there was hardly room for the patient.

Arvyn Garcia has been named to the white while Billie and son Kenny Lee are in Dallas visiting her daughter Carleen Garvey.

Tuesday Mrs. Kenneth McCarty took her first and second grade students to the Bay, where they boarded the train for what was for some their first ride. The group got off in Gulfport then went to the lovely little park in Pass Christian for a day of picknicking.

Congratulations to Miss Lorraine LaFontaine who will graduate from Bay High and has ambitions to be a model, also to Peggy Ann Garcia and Virginia Thomas who are finishing up at St. Joseph's.

Friday my sister-in-law Mrs. Irene Strickland drove over from Chalmette to bring the new grandson, Brian. Accompanying her were her mother Mrs. Lena Walker of Madisonville, Texas, Joan Strickland and son Mark, Helen Strickland and son, Brian, and Lonnie Strickland, all of Chalmette.

Mrs. Margaret Varnell and her third and fourth graders spent Thursday in the Pass on a picnic.

Miss Perkins took her fifth and sixth grades to Lyman for a look at the fish Hatchery then back to the Pass for their picnic. On Tuesday Mr. Caruso took his gang to Fort Pike, where they consumed pounds of ham and dozens of soft drinks.

The plaque bearing names of past salutatorians and valedictorians has been brought up to date with the addition of Cheryl Moran and Dorlene Rinehart, and is hanging in a prominent place for all who visit the school to see.

Tuesday night Gulfview P-TA held its last meet of the year. Oren Seal, principal, Ernest Cuevas, past president and Charles DeBontport, new president, all thanked Luke Caruso for his work with the P-TA and wished him well on his new job at North Bay next term. After the business session a group of parents gave a surprise party for Mr. Caruso in the luncheon. Mrs. Pascal Caruso, his mother, was presented a lovely orchid corsage and Mr. Caruso received a nice gift certificate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Croncy were over for a few days and brought Mrs. Croncy's mother, Mrs. Gelsler, who does such beautiful crochet work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bordages had such a nice surprise Mother's Day. Mrs. Elizabeth Courge, 97, who has been ill all winter asked to be taken to visit with Lambert and Miss Teena.

BOOM LOWERS CONTESTANTS' BOATS INTO BAY (Photos by Ed Fayard, Jr.)

Harry Hears... Tigers, Jones Hold Spotlight

High school varsity sports for the 1961-62 season have concluded. Bay High finished the baseball year on a successful note - tying for the Gulf Coast Conference championship - and St. Stanislaus's Golden Jones won still another trophy to add to his ever-increasing total.

Because last week's Echo was devoted to graduation, we were unable to give Bay High their due credit. The Tigers really had to earn the tie for the conference baseball championship, beating previously undefeated (within the conference) Ocean Springs twice in succession. The clincher came when the Tigers whipped the Greyhounds 6-5 in Bay St. Louis for their second of the two victories. Bay High used timely hitting by Richard Scheffer, Sam Allison, Leroy Luke, Ronnie Peterson, and Leslie Blainz to post the triumph. All five had a hand in the Tiger scoring.

Bay High started bad this year, losing the first conference game to Pass Christian and losing another decision to the Pirates in a return engagement. Coach Lance Lumpkin attributed much of the latter season success to the pitching of Don Saucier, winner in both games against Ocean Springs. During most of the season several pitchers handled mound duties but Lumpkin elected in the final two games to stick with Saucier and the junior righthander responded with good performances. It was Bay High's first Conference baseball championship.

Golden Jones, the amazing Stanislaus junior sprinter, surprised us in only one way last Friday in winning a first place in the state A-AA track and field meet. Jones captured highest honors in the 220-yard dash while all season long his 440-yard runs and 100-yard dashes have been more impressive.

The Rockchaw flash still managed to run the 440 in under 51 seconds which is a full second below the recognized district mark. Set this year by Jones himself! Next year, there's no telling what the young man might do.

New Circuit Bodes Good

Recent formation of the Mississippi Catholic Conference is a good idea. We hope within a year more teams will join. As of now, six teams will participate in the loop next year. St. Stanislaus is included. It is expected that at least four more will begin playing in another year, but the next year, with only three teams in each of the northern and southern division of the conference, there is an especially good chance that in football and basketball ties could occur, especially in football when most probably each team will play the other two teams in that division one time.

If the conference builds up to 10 or 11 teams as expected, then local fans should get to see a lot better brand of ball with teams coming from Vicksburg, Jackson, etc.

Brother Daclan, athletic director and principal at SSC, was elected the first president, and we know it will turn out to be a wise selection.

With the Majors

A brief look at the major leagues: The New York Yankees may be the best team in the American League but if the past two weeks are any indication, they'd better beware of a group of Cleveland Indians who are on the warpath. The Tribe has had good success in its games with the Bombers and have been handling most of the other clubs with ease. Cleveland has an excellent pitching staff and to date they've been getting the hitting and fielding plays at just the right time.

What we think is going to happen in the AL - while the Yanks and Indians battle it out for the top spot for a time, Detroit, a good well-balanced team, will suddenly hit a hot streak and slip right past New York and Cleveland and on to the 1962 pennant. In the National League, San Francisco has been the big surprise. Why is no secret - the Giants, through the first month, showed the best pitching, fielding and hitting in the league. St. Louis's Cardinals have been another big surprise. After a blazing start which saw Manager Johnny Keane's Redbirds win their first seven contests, the Cards went into a bad slump, but they appear to have found themselves again. Last weekend they swept a three-game series with rugged Los Angeles after squeaking by 1-0 in the opener.

The man to watch on the St. Louis club is Curt Simmons. A lefthander who came from Philadelphia, Simmons has a 6-1 record with St. Louis. He has pitched six complete games in which he has allowed a total of eight earned runs. In the only game he was beaten, a stiff wind in San Francisco's Candlestick Park (Remember the time Stu Miller was blown off the mound in an all-star game?) blew Simmons' fielding mates. The 30-year-old lefty who mines an adequate fast ball and several different speeds of curves might be past his prime, but we don't think so. We look for Simmons to be a 20-game winner this year.

Bay High basketball coach Wilmer Seymour took advantage of the closing of high school sports activities to give his cage hopefuls for next season some "late-spring training" the past few weeks. The Tiger cagers will have to work very hard to beat North Central and Harrison Central, but they will be good and we don't think anybody will say they are not interesting to watch!

Tony Piazza Sets Record in Regatta

Local favorite Tony Piazza soared across the waves in record time to win first place in the 266 Hydro division of the St. Stanislaus Regatta Sunday before a large crowd in Bay St. Louis.

Piazza of New Iberia, La., and son of Bay resident Tony Piazza, piloted the Baby Bee to a win over ace power boat skipper Clayton Bourgeois of New Orleans. Fred Wilkes' Pop's Rebel came in third in the 266 hydro class.

T. J. Deshaies of Ponchartraine, La., was one of the day's biggest stars, winning first in three different classes. Deshaies beat Forrest Bartholomew of Ponchartraine and J. W. Jones of Hammond to win the 266 hydro division. He can run near Bartholomew and Deshaies' Wrecked Trellis in the 300cc utility races, and also won in the 100cc Runabout class, beating Roy Williams, Jr., and James Trellis placed in two other races other than the 300cc utility, finishing second to Bartholomew in the 44 Runabout division behind Richard McConnell of New Orleans and Frank Talbot of New Orleans.

In one of the closest races of the day, Johnny Landiche of New Orleans topped Joe Saracusa by one second to win the 150 Hydro class. Cal Callahan of Baton Rouge was third. In the other hydroplane divisions, the 280 Hydros saw Jerry Milbo of New Orleans emerge victorious, and Saracusa won the 48 Hydro class.

William Bourne of Coral Gables, Fla., one who traveled a long distance to enter the regatta, won the E and F Service Runabout class, defeating his closest rival Don LaBarre of New Orleans.

All class winners were decided by the running of two heats, with the best average finish for

$2,373 Toward Dimes March

Hancock County contributed a total of $2,373.71 for the 1962 March of Dimes, according to the report of Mrs. Theo Tudary who served as county campaign director.

Last January's campaign against the crippling diseases of arthritis, birth defects and polio raised $310,000 in the state, Dr. A. L. Gray, Mississippi chairman, and Owen Cooper, associate chairman, have disclosed.

March of Dimes funds are used locally by the county chapter of The National Foundation to provide direct patient aid and by national headquarters to support a program of medical scientific research and professional education. Seventy-six per cent of contributions in Mississippi since The National Foundation was founded in 1938 has been used by county chapters for care and rehabilitation of patients.

During 1961 County March of Dimes Chapters in Mississippi gave aid to over a thousand patients with crippling rheumatoid arthritis, birth defects and polio at a cost of more than $110,000. The year also marked the opening of a Special Birth Defects Treatment Center at the University Hospital in Jackson. Financed by March of Dimes money from all counties in the state, the center has as its purpose the achievement of comprehensive and exemplary care for patients with birth defects.
